Dial-Up

- Crawl along at a top speed of 56K.
- Waste valuable time dialing in.
- Log off whenever you need the phone or you'll miss calls.
- Put up with that noisy dial-up screech.

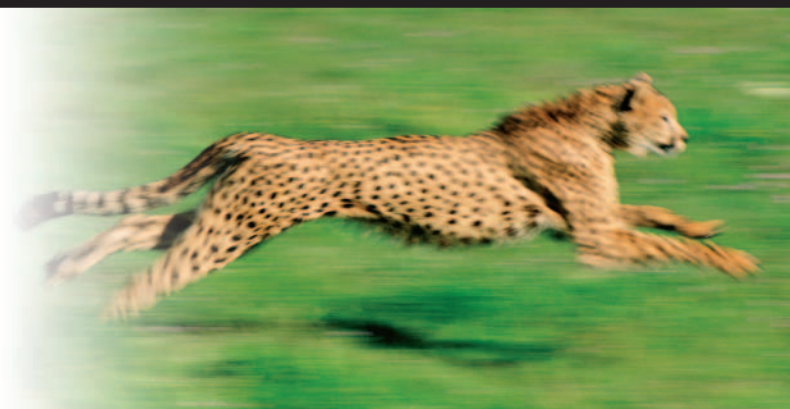

With dial-up, you're just a speedbump on the information superhighway.

DSL

- Advertised DSL speeds are half that of cable speeds!
- To get advertised DSL rates you'll have to sign a long-term contract.
- Gets slower and slower the farther you get from the phone company's central office.

DSL wants you to think it's fast, but it's more bark than bite.

Comcast High-Speed Internet

- 25 times faster than dial-up.†
- Twice as fast as DSL.†
- Coming Soon! Comcast will leave other Internet providers in the dust with speeds up to 3 Mbps.
- Easily watch movies, play games, listen to music and send video clips.
- Secure, constant connection.
- 24/7 support.
- Home Networking solutions available.

When it comes to keeping you up and running, nothing can touch Comcast High-Speed Internet.
